WELL KNOWN YOUTH SHOT

Paul Taffe, 25, slain trying To Enter Wrong Apartment
In Columbus.

Many residents here were surprised to hear of the death of Paul Taffe, 25, of 1135 Fairwood-ave, Columbus, who was fatally shot early Sunday as a prowler in a Columbus North Side apartment house. Young Taffe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Taffe, former residents here and a nephew of William and Richard Taffe, Logan-st., and Mrs. Thomas Howell, Elm-ave.

Taffe is said to have been drinking and had mistakenly entered the wrong house looking for the room of a friend. He was shot by Reuben H. Cook, on the second floor of the apartment on 29 Lundy-st., Columbus.

The family of Taffe stated Monday that they will demand an investigation of the incidents surrounding the shooting.

It was evident, Taffe's relatives said, that Paul had been drinking and had gotten into the wrong place while searching for the apartment of a friend, and it should have been obvious that he was not a burglar because he did not run when a dog barked at him or when someone called out asking him what he wanted.

He leaves his parents and three brothers.

Funeral services will be held at the Glen L. Myers funeral chapel, 23 W. Second-ave, Columbus at 1-30 p. m. Tuesday.

Sensation Due

Major Roy Ammel (above), who made the first non-stop flight from the United States to Panama several months ago, is reported to be ready to announce plans for another sensational flight which may surpass even that of Post and Gatty in daring. Ammel has purchased a fast new plane for his promised aerial adventure.

All went to their death for the murder of Louis Hoffman on a farm near Johnstown in 1928 in a dispute over hiding of a liquor shipment. It was the first quadruple execution in the commonwealth in more than four years.

The proclamation made martial law effective at 6 a. m. today and Brigadier General Jacob F. Walters, whose troops had already been mobilized at Kilgore, was under orders to start closing down the wells today.

Gregg, Upshur, Rusk and Smith counties were affected by the order. The four counties have approximately 1,650 oil wells, which have been producing around 740,000 barrels per day.

The governor's order declared that "a state of insurrection" exists in certain quarters against the state conservation laws and that as a result, injured land and royalty owners threaten "by force of arms" to overcome the situation.

DESTROYER OF CROPS FOUND

Japanese Beetle Located In Two Sections of State, Guthery States.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 17.—The Japanese beetle, destroyer of valuable crops in eastern United States, has invaded Ohio State, Director of Agriculture I. S. Guthery revealed today.

An investigation has been started by members of the United States department of agriculture to determine whether a quarantine ought to be ordered.

Although only a few of the insects have been found it is feared that they may be infesting the state in great numbers, Guthery declared.

Guthery learned about the beetle invasion from federal officials. The insects were found in traps set by federal scouts near Cleveland and Columbus. The fact that they were found in two sections of the state caused Guthery to believe that several parts of Ohio may be endangered.

CAT IS RESCUED FROM ITS DUNGEON

A kitten thrown from an auto on S. Court-st., later run over and then thrown in a sewer was probably rejoicing Saturday after having been given a temporary home.

The black and white kitten had wandered into the street and was run over by a passing auto, suffering a broken leg. Then a workman on the street picked up the small animal and threw it in a sewer in front of the Smith residence. The kitten remained in the sewer the greater part of the day until late Friday evening when a group of south end boys formed a rescue party and took the animal from its dungeon.

It was fed and then taken to the home of one of the boys where it was given other relief.

Miss Helen Wilson was a Chilli-cotte visitor, Monday.

Moeller Store Closed Monday

One of Circleville's oldest and best known dry goods stores was closed Monday by Sheriff Charles Radcliff on an execution judgment issued by the Second National Bank through Attorney Barton Walters.

The doors of Moeller's Store, E. Main-st., were shut after a judgment for $6,956.82 had been executed against Mrs. Elizabeth Moeller, H. C. Moeller and Miss Gretchen Moeller, by the bank as the result of non-payment of money which is allegedly due the bank.

The sheriff obtained possession of the keys, told employees to leave and then locked the doors. The application for appointment of a receiver was filed in common pleas court before Judge J. W. Adkins by Barton Walters, the bank's attorney.

If a receiver is appointed, the stock of goods in the store will be sold to satisfy the judgment. Moeller's Store has been in operation for over 50 years.

BOY SCOUTS PASS COURT OF REVIEW

Fifteen awards were made to Scouts at Friday night's Court of Review when Mr. Jameson from Scout Headquarters assisted the local council members.

This is the first court of review at which the troop from Ashville has not passed an award so they are in danger of losing the county flag which they now hold.

Scoutmaster Roth from New Holland brought the following boys for awards: Edward Kirkpatrick, for merit badge for Gardening; Thorburn Jennings, Earl Hickie and Darrell French for Second Class; Earl Morris, Josef Louis, Galen Hosler, Edward Kirkpatrick and Charles Ater for First Class awards.

Troop 107 of Circleville had the following awards: Raymond Hill passed Merit Badge tests on Wood-carving, Personal Health, Swimming, Woodwork, and John Robinson passed Merit Badge tests on First Aid, and Personal Health.

The Courts of Review shows that the boys are progressing in their Scout work and R. L. Brehmer in his talk to the boys impressed on them that the requirements that they are obliged to pass in becoming second and first class Scouts all lead up the part of the Scout motto of "Be Prepared."

TO SPEND $5,000

Van Camp Co. Has Tools
on Job Ready to Go

Tarvia work on several of Circleville's streets was begun here Monday afternoon under the supervision of L. E. Miller, director of public service. The workmen began their operations on N. Pickaway-st when a number of rough places were to be filled in preparation for the final tarvia layer which will be applied later.

It is planned after filling the rough places on Pickaway-st to go to other streets on the tarvia program when work will be done. After these other streets have been completed the workmen will return to Pickaway-st to complete the job there.

WORK HELD UP

Work would have been started quite a time ago and possibly completed by this time but for a controversy between the service department and the Sturm-Dillard Co., furnishing crushed stone for the job, over the size and quality of the stone to be provided. That has been settled, it is understood, and work ready to begin.

Between 20 and 30 men were to go to work Monday afternoon, Mr. Miller said.

The T. D. VanCamp Co., of Columbus, had its equipment on the job ready to work and will lay the tar. The Van Camp Co.'s bid for furnishing tar for the project was 9-1-2 cents per-gallon and the stone to be furnished for $1.25 per ton.

CONTINUES PROGRAM

This continuation of tarvia-laying in streets was passed in an ordinance by council sometime ago. All cost is to be paid from the automobile fund. Total cost will be about $5,000.

The streets to be repaired with tarvia are:

E. High-st, North and South Pickaway-st, Watt-st, Washington-st, and Union-st.

High-st will be tarvied east to the east-line of Pickaway-st, a distance of 69 cubic yards; Watt-st will be tarvied from the edge of the brick paving on Watt-st to the line of McCrae-ave, 37 cubic yards.

N. Pickaway-st will be treated with tarvia beginning at the North line of E. High-st, south to the north line of Watt-st, 42 cubic yards; Washington-st will be treated beginning at the east line of the Clinton-Union-st intersection west to Scioto-st, 224 cubic yards.

S. Pickaway-st will be treated beginning at the Mound and Pickaway-st intersection south to the Pennsylvania Railroad.

While it has not been determined what streets will have work done on them, Mr. Miller stated Monday, that the program as now outlined will be augmented by the addition of several other streets in the city.

1931-1932 Year to Be 36 Weeks Board of Educa- tion Plans

BUDGET IS STUDIED
School Parking Question
Is Before Council

Schools of Circleville Will begin Monday, Sept. 14, according to an announcement Monday by Charles H. May, president of the board of education.

The 1931-1932 term of school will be 36 weeks in duration according to present plans, two weeks shorter than that of recent years. Usually school would have started on Sept. 8, the first Monday after Labor Day, but since the term has been reduced it was thought advisable to take one week from the first part of the year and one from the last part.

While figures have not been disclosed by J. R. Noecker, clerk of the board of education, it is reported the budget has just about been settled for the year. That is the amount thought needed for the year's operation is settled but where the funds are coming from is another question. With delinquent taxes in the county being close to the $400,000 mark and the general income into the county coffers not what it should be, budgeters in every school district in the county are watching their figures.

PARKING QUESTION

Another question that should be taken up before school starts here is that of parking at the high school building. City council has been studying this situation but has not yet reached a definite solution to offer to protect the lives of children crossing the streets. It is expected a plan which might be applicable will be offered before school year begins.

County schools have not yet announced the date to begin studies but it is expected most will begin on either Sept. 7 or Sept. 14.

He was arrested Sunday at 11 p. m. at the N. W. station by Officer Fred Fitzpatrick and Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell.

Tom Hickey and Clarence Brungs were paroled by Mayor Hedges, Monday, after they pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct. They were each sentenced to six months in the Columbus workhouse and fined $50 and costs but being paroled, these sentences will be placed against them if they again run astray of the law. They were arrested by Officer McCready and Deputy Sheriff Armstrong.

Delno Waliser and Ray Donaldson were each fined $25 and costs when they pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct after their arrest by Officers Fitzpatrick and McManamy.

Birds Annex Second Game

Comeback After Gudat Is Greeted Viciously; Cven-gros Is Tough.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 17.—The Columbus Red Birds had proven today that they were still very much in the fight for a first-division berth in the American Association baseball pennant race, following their "come-back" against the Milwaukee Brewers yesterday. After losing the first game 12-8, the fighting Birds turned the tables and galloped home with the nightcap, 11 to 3.

The first game was all Brewers. Marvin Gudat, the Columbus pitcher, allowed the Milwaukeeans 20 hits, while his teammates were collecting 13. Mike Cven-gros, new Bird pitcher, had just what the Brewers didn't like, in the second contest, and held the visitors to nine hits, while the flock was gathering 17 safeties. Pat Crawford, Columbus first-sacker, smashed out his 22nd home run of the season in the first fracas. The loss-and-win kept Columbus in fifth place, within easy reach of the first division.

Indianapolis, with first place in its eye, handed the league-leading Saint Paul Saints a neat lacing, 11 to 6, at the Indiana city. The game was of the free-hitting variety.

Kansas City and Louisville were still tied for fourth place, following their double wins yesterday. The Blues set the Toledo Mud Hens back twice, 6-2 and 8-6, while the Colonels were trouncing the Minneapolis Millers 5-4 and 3-1.

Five consecutive hits in the tenth inning of the first game gave Kansas City four runs and the game. The nightcap was another free-hitting affair, with Toledo ending up on the short end of the score, although out-hitting the Blues. Louisville won both games behind the sterling pitching by "Lefty" Williams and Marcum, the latter turning in one of the best pitching exhibitions of the year.

Battle of Beverly for Jones' Mantle

Recent developments in the world where the little white ball is supreme indicate in no uncertain terms that the National Amateur Golf tournament, which starts at Beverly, Chicago, soon now, will carry far more action than many look for in a Jonesless championship. Charles Kocsis, of Detroit, has come along like the traditional house on fire. He finished in a tie with Tommy Armour in the Michigan open and beat him in the play-off. Charles Seaver is also expected to turn in a great card, as is Eugene Homans. George Voigt is a veteran in tournament play and it is a foregone conclusion that he will give a good account of himself. Not the least fancied is Harrison Johnston, who has been holding them consistently of late. Yes, far from taking interest away from the tourney, the absence of the mighty Jones apparently will add a new zest to the struggle.

Weakness Of Cardinals Against Southpaws Seen

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—These long shot bettors who plan to risk their money on the St. Louis Cardinals in the world series had something to worry about today. The National league champions collapsed like a tube of toothpaste anked by Primo Carnera, when they faced Bill Walker of the New York Giants on Sunday.

Walker, a left-hander, is an imitation of sorts of Lefty Groves of the Athletics and from the weakness of the Cards against him it might be safely figured Groves will be good for two wins over the St. Louis crew.

Frisch and Hafey were the only Cardinals to hit and they only poked singles, the Giants winning 7 to 1. Walker retired the first 20 men to face him. It was the third time Walker has whipped Burleigh Grimes.

Mr. Frisch was important in the finale, cracking a blazing homer in the eighth off Bentley with one of his boy friends on base to break up the game, 3 to 2.

Babe Ruth climbed to the lead in the home run marathon getting No. 33 as the Yankees rallied in the ninth and pushed over Detroit, 9 to 6. Gehrig has 32 homers. This is the first time this season Ruth has been in front of the men who clout heavily.

Glenn Wright, out with a bad ankle, celebrated his return to the wars by snagging six hits, three in each game, as he led the Robins of Brooklyn to a twinnish humbling of the Cincy Reds, 9 to 2 and 8 to 7.

Frank O'Doul of the San Francisco Giants sewed up the second tilt with a double in the fourth with the bags choked.

Cochrane and Cramer both homered as the Athletics took their 81st season success with Cleveland 6 to 4 victims. Mabeaffey had to retire under fire in the eighth but got credit for his thirteenth victory.

The Chicago Cubs remained just one point behind the Giants in the battle for second place in the National circuit by taking two encounters from the Boston Braves, 7 to 1 and 5 to 1. Root spaced seven singles in the opener and Bush gave only five hits in the evening affair, errors robbing him to play better football than at any other time during the season.

Northwestern will come here for a game on Oct. 24.

Thus the Willaman forces will be called upon to meet both the co-champions of the Western Conference in a week. The Wolverines and Northwestern held the conference title jointly.

On the lips of all the fans now is one question, "Who will take Fesler's place?"

Well-wishers sigh when they look about in search of a prospective All-American of Fesler's caliber.

"Jumping Joe" Benis, a Cleveland, is expected to be assigned to Fesler's place as field leader, although Stuart Holcomb of Erie, Pa., has been chosen captain of the team.

Experts regard none of the present squad as being of Fesler's genius and believe the incoming sophomores will have to furnish the flash and fire.

SOPHOMORES OHIO'S HOPE

Fesler and Larkins Leave University; Benis May Be Field Leader.

COLUMBUS, O. — Hard hit by graduation losses, Coach Sam Willaman has many difficulties ahead of him in preparing for one of the most difficult schedules an Ohio State university football team has faced in many years.

The departure of stars like Wesley Fesler and Dick Larkins is a blow that cannot be easily forgotten, but the trouble looms even greater after a glance at the program.

Hardly will Willaman have started trying to rebuild his team before he will find himself in the midst of a hard schedule.

A practice game with the University of Cincinnati will be followed with a game against Vanderbilt one of the good teams of the south, and the following week the Buckeyes will meet their old foe—the University of Michigan.

The Cincinnati practice game is scheduled on Oct. 3, with the Vanderbilt game on Oct. 10, here, and the Michigan game at Ann Arbor on Oct. 17.

SAYS HARD WORK KEEPS ALL PENS FREE FROM RIOTS

By ARTHUR B. DONEGAN
HARRISBURG, Pa.—Hard work and a well-rounded industrial system are credited by John L. Hanna, state secretary of welfare, with having kept Pennsylvania's prisons free from disorders and riots such as have occurred in other states within the last year or two.

Check of the four penal institutions under the direction of the department of welfare, Hanna said,

PICKLES ADD ZEST TO MANY DINNERS

Pickles that add a zestful, piquant touch to scores of meals and a stimulating tartness to many otherwise unappetizing dishes are easy to prepare, according to Miss Della Ogilvie, nutrition specialist in the department of home economics at the Ohio State University.

Among the many different kinds of pickles, she says, are olive oil pickles and cucumber ketchup. Delicious olive oil pickles are made with 100 medium sized pickles, 1 quart of small onions, 1-4 cup of celery seed, 1-2 cup of white mustard seed, 1-1 cup of white pepper, 1 cup salt, cider vinegar and shows that an average of about 800 inmates are regularly employed in definite industrial pursuits.

While this by no means approximates the total population of the institutions, the welfare head said, many of the inmates are employed at specialized work which does not qualify them for trades to which prison industries are confined, and others are employed at general labor.

An example of the latter is in construction now under way at both the eastern and western state penitentiaries, where 800 to 1,000 men are employed on the prison buildings and grounds, carrying forward improvement work.

"There is no question," said Hanna, discussing the absence of disorders from the state penal institutions, "but that some of the state-owned prisons are overcrowded."

Overcrowding has been mentioned as one of the leading causes of riots in prisons in other states. Much of the overcrowded condition in Pennsylvania prisons will be relieved, however, as soon as our building program is completed.

"In the meantime, eight hours a day of healthful, hard labor keeps a man close to normal life and leaves him comfortably tired at night with little inclination to conspire for rioting."

No sure cure, however, can be found for prison disorders, the secretary of welfare believes.

WOMEN'S EXHIBITS OF REAL INTEREST

The Modern Women Style Clinic sponsored by the McColl Company of New York City, is to be an outstanding activity in the Women's Building. Style experts, from New York City, will be present and will not only demonstrate the art of making up a dress, but will also give lectures on style, sewing, alterations, measurements, etc. They will present a model on the stage, select pattern adapted to her, cut the material, assemble it, and perform every step in making the dress, displaying the finished garment on the model for whom it was made. This will be a rare opportunity for the women of Ohio to have all their dress problems solved. Appropriate clothes for school children will be discussed and made at the Style Clinic. Dress fabrics, patterns, needlework articles, transfer designs, and quilt patterns will be exhibited in connection with the Style Clinic, which people may attend and enjoy while seated comfortably in the auditorium of the Women's Building, every afternoon from one to six o'clock.

FOR THE KIDDIES

Soap sculpture will be a feature that every child ought to see. Soap as a medium for the sculptor is beginning to lose its first flush of novelty. In other words, it seems to be taking its place alongside the harder, more traditional materials; and its popularity is attested by the increasing interest in it. Shaping figures in soap must be almost as much fun as making mud pies. Children are natural workers in the plastic arts. There is training as well as mere amusement in the making of soap sculpture.

OHIO'S ILLITERATE POPULATION IS NINETEENTH IN THE NATION

The State of Ohio, with 123,804 persons ten years of age and over unable to read and write, ranks nineteenth among the forty-eight states and the District of Columbia in having least illiteracy. During the decade her illiteracy was reduced by 7,202 and this unfortunate class now constitutes 2.3 per cent of the state's population. However, at the same time Ohio dropped from sixteenth to nineteenth place in rank in illiteracy. Although the 74,131 foreign-born white illiterates are the most numerous of any group, and themselves constitute the most serious problem, the slight reduction of the native white illiteracy in comparison with that of the foreign-born white is significant. There was a 1,339 reduction of native white illiteracy, which now numbers 32,387, compared with a 10,256 foreign-born white reduction. Ohio, it appears, has more than twice as many native white illiterates as Florida. Negro illiteracy in the state increased from 12,715 to 16,213 during the decade. There are eighteen counties in the state in which there are more than 1,000 illiterates and fifteen others with illiteracy ranging from 500 to 1,000. The number of persons unable to read and write in the counties varies from 60 in Morrow-co to 35,662 in Cuyahoga. Ohio has taken her place along with forty-two states and the District of Columbia in setting up a State Advisory Committee on Illiteracy to deal specifically with this problem. It was appointed at the suggestion of Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur after he created the National Advisory Committee on Illiteracy, whose purpose has been to make the nation "illiteracy conscious" to the end that a national campaign throughout the United States will put an end to illiteracy. Dr. S. K. Mardis, member of the Ohio Legislature, formerly on the faculty of Ohio University, is an active member of the State Advisory Committee on Illiteracy in the promotion of the campaign. For several years the state has maintained a director who has dealt specifically with illiteracy. In her prisons, Ohio has introduced classes teaching the illiterates how to read and write. An outstanding achievement in this connection resulted from the efforts of Walden P. E. Thomas in the State Penitentiary. Few states have surpassed Ohio in the education of her prisoners. The members of the Ohio Advisory Committee on Illiteracy are: R. G. Jones, Cleveland; Dr. J. Harry Cotton, Columbus; Miss M. Edith Campbell, Cincinnati; Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson, Dayton; Martin J. Arft, Toledo; Dr. S. K. Mardis, Athens; J. L. Fortney, Chillicothe; George Thornburg, St. Clairsville; and Robert L. Erwin, Steubenville. Now that the 1930 census returns give a picture of the number of persons county by county unable to read and write, the public-spirited citizens of Ohio are in a position to coordinate the activities of

SHOW PICTURES OF OHIO'S STATE FAIR

COLUMBUS, O.—"Motion pictures portraying the various exhibits and amusement features of the Ohio State Fair to be held Aug. 31 to Sept. 5 inclusive, are now being shown in theatres, high schools, Grange and Farm Bureau meetings, Parent-Teachers' Associations, Rotary, Kiwanis and other luncheon clubs," Chas. M. Beer, State Fair Manager announced today.

"The picture consists of two reels, the first one graphically telling the story of how the World's Greatest Exposition is operated. The picture shows Governor White signing the General Appropriation Bill which carries an appropriation of $250,000 for the 1931 Fair. Then there are close-ups of the Director of Agriculture including: Ernest Riggs, R. D. Williamson, E. H. Campbell, Mrs. Wm. J. Pontius, R. A. Forster, Alva B. Caple, L. B. Palmer, G. W. Rittenour, A. H. Morton, George S. York."

"Livestock champions and winners of former years are shown in action, together with the ever pleasing displays of agriculture, horticulture products, farm machinery, industrial, commercial and educational exhibits, presenting a composite panorama of visual education and instruction."

"The second reel is devoted to the musical and amusement features. J. W. Wainwright who has organized and directed the all-Ohio 300 piece High School band for eight years, is shown with his famous band in action. The Haggenback-Wallace circus which will give a performance each afternoon and evening directly opposite the grandstand in the race track enclosure, is depicted in an interesting manner, commencing with the unloading of the circus in the early morning hours, the erection of the big top, elephants pushing and pulling the heavy wagons, high school and dancing horses ridden by charming ladies, 20 elephants performing in groups of five, 36 liberty horses each numbered and executing marvelous maneuvers without the trainer's aid, cowboys and cowgirls from the far West, Cossacks from Russia, funny clowns, Clyde Beatty, former Chillicothe boy, now the world's greatest wild animal trainer, subduing 32 African lions and Bengal tigers in a 32 foot steel arena. The great Wilno, human projectile who is shot through space from a cannon, and concluding with the brilliant spectacle the "Golden Orient."

One way a writer can get himself quoted as an authority is to brag on the worth of advertising. There are two kinds of drivers—brakers and dodgers. You can tell the kind by the location of the dents.

When the dial telephone idea becomes universal, doubtless the surgeon will just diagnose the case and hand you a knife.

"Preferred by celebrities," says a typewriter ad. Careful examination, however, reveals that the cap "T" is built no stronger than the one on other machines.

"Overworked Nerves" is a condition that many people suffer from. It is caused by too much stress and strain on the nervous system. The symptoms are: headache, dizziness, nervousness, irritability, and general exhaustion. The best remedy is Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nerve Tablets. They are made of pure, natural ingredients and are easy to take. They will help you to relax and get your nerves back into shape.

UP TO your ears in work—every nerve at high tension. No wonder you snap at the wife and bark at the children. Watch out! Just one in a half glass of water makes a pleasant, sparkling drink delightfully soothing to over-taxed nerves. Dr. Miles' Nerve is now made in two forms—Liquid and Effervescent Tablet. ## EARLY START BEST FOR LAWN GRASSES

The fall season is a much better time for the sowing of grass seed and the building of a lawn than is the spring, according to G. M. McClure, specialist in soils at the Ohio State University, who says that lawn grasses grow best under cool, moist conditions, such as are likely to occur during September and October.

The growth of young grass seeded in September, he asserts, is less hampered by weeds than is grass sown in the spring. Most weeds have sprouted earlier in the season and have been cultivated out during the preparation of the seedbed. Another reason for fall seeding is that the grass stools or tillers out during this season, and consequently establishes itself before the advent of freezing weather. With such a start the grass begins growth early in the spring and is able to compete with weeds which begin growth upon the arrival of warm weather.

Grading is the first operation in starting a new lawn, he says. If the final grade must be lower than the present one, from 4 to 6 inches of surface soil is removed, the grade established by removing the subsoil, and the surface soil replaced to make the final grade. If the final grade is to be higher than the original, grading is done by applying top soil over the area and leveling it to the desired grade.

HASWELL FURNACES ARE MUCH BETTER

At this time of the year the public is not apt to think of buying furnaces for next year, however, now is the best time to consider the purchase of this type of "white house" heater, according to J. C. Haswell, who has been in the furnace building business during the past 45 years.

The Haswell All-Steel Furnace is very well-known in Circleville and Pickaway-co to the hundreds of users who have been satisfied with their purchases.

The furnace is built with expert hands and is made for soft and hard coal, coke and wood, or any other burning material. The heater is encased in a galvanized iron jacket which insures that none of the heat will escape by way of the chimney, but will pass through the various heating pipes in the house.

The heater has also plenty of air space between the lower casing ring and the sub-radiator which gives the air a chance to circulate around the shell. The air to fan the fire is admitted through the hot blast door, comes in contact with the apron pouch feed and then passes to the underside of the grate. Prices of the various numbers and sizes of the furnaces sold by Mr. Haswell range from $127 to $202.

Mr. Haswell's shop also makes steel or iron smoke stacks and engages in all kinds of heavy steel and iron work, making galvanized steel tanks and other such items.

Mr. Haswell invites visitors to his place of business located in the rear of the Wallace Bakery. He is glad at all times to accommodate the public, by calling at homes and giving prices on various projects.

SPECIAL INSECT KILLER AT STOUT'S

A product that is very rarely handled by a filling station is being offered as a special at Stout's Sinclair Filling Station during the next two weeks, according to an announcement made by Walter Stout, manager of the station.

The product is a Sinclair Pest Destroyer which exterminates flies, ants, mosquitoes, moths, bed bugs, roaches, and every other kind of insect that is troublesome.

This special offer comes at the right time, as at this season of the year, bugs and insects are plentiful and harmful.

During this special offer Mr. Stout asks that all residents of the city who are troubled with invasions of various type bugs and insects in their home come to the filling station and take home some of the Sinclair Pest Destroyer.

This station is located at the corner of N. Court and High-sts.

FIND MEANS OF METHOD-EXCHANGE

Measures to keep the buying power of money stable while commodity values change were submitted today by Representative W. C. Ramseyer of Iowa, as a means to prevent unemployment and periods of depression.

Ramseyer, as chairman, reported conclusions of a study by a special committee, to the Iowa State Bar Association, in an annual meeting here.

"What we have to find," he said, "is a method of arranging means of exchange and also means of payment in such a manner as to prevent violent fluctuations."

Without advocating any specific measure, the Iowa Republican submitted methods which have been proposed by economists and international figures. Among them was a plan to regulate the number of grains of gold in the dollar to meet changing price levels, as advocated by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University.

DR. WATTS IS VETERINARIAN

Probably listed as the best veterinarian in Pickaway-co is Dr. C. C. Watts who has an animal hospital at his offices at 422 East Main street. Dr. Watts has gained a fine and wide reputation since he has been in this community and he is known as a specialist in his line of work.

GOOD STICK CANDY OFFERED, WEIMER'S

A good supply of home made pure stick candy and chocolates is now on hand at the Weimer Candy Shop, 316 Watt-st., according to an announcement by Mr. Henry Weimer, proprietor.

During the extreme hot weather Mr. Weimer was not able to supply the demand. Due to the fact that a few days of cooler weather happened along, Mr. Weimer was able to catch up in his operations so that he is now able to supply the demand of his customers.

These candies are well known for their good flavor and quality having been on the market for several years. The candies are made in his own factory which he operates in connection with his retail store. In buying these candies one knows that he is getting the best type of stick candy that is offered.

Mr. Weimer also handles a large stock of other candies. His store gives a variety that excels many larger stores of larger cities.

REPAIR SERVICE AT C. MOTORS

In preparation for an auto tour it does not pay to leave things to chance. Breaking down of the car enroute is of course a serious inconvenience, but when it is complicated by delay and hotel bills it also becomes a financial calamity.

Ordinary foresight suggests that the car be inspected and adjusted properly before starting. In this work, a good all-round mechanic proves his value. Motorists who want to be prepared may find such men at the Circleville Motors Garage on S. Court-st. The mechanics here are of long experience and have worked on the better class of car as well as the lighter ones.

These men have unusual skill in diagnosing as well as repairing and as a result get to the trouble quickly.

This garage also sells the Buick and Pontiac, two of the best cars on the market today.

The statement that the late Buick has a greater number horsepower engine is, in itself, impressive. But no less impressive is the fact that each of the horsepower in this car is called upon to pull only about 25 pounds of car weight, compared with 35 to 40 pounds per horsepower in the average automobile. This unusually low ratio of weight to power is one of the chief reasons for the extraordinary performance of this new Buick product.

This service garage offers one of the best repair services in the city and are always ready day and night to take care of accidents.

Call at the Circleville Motors and look at the new Buicks and Pontiacs before you buy a car.

PARLOR OPENING

A MISTAKE!

The Weekly Business News Editor wishes to call to the attention of the readers a mistake concerning a certain product handled by an advertiser in this section, which appeared sometime ago.

A CORRECTION!

An erroneous statement appeared in a recent edition of the Weekly Business News. In an article which concerned service offered at Miller's Radio Shop, W. Main-st. it was stated in a paragraph that trouble frequently occurred in a Miller sold radio. Mr. Miller advises us that trouble never or very seldom occurs in any of the radios he sells. This has been proved on radios purchased here.

A Defense of Weather
SPEAKING of weather—and who isn't?—it was one of Mark Twain's justly celebrated observations that everybody complained about the weather, but no one seemed to do anything about it. It's a good thing no one does. If anyone did, he would probably deprive us of one of our greatest democratizing influences. It is out of contention that weather, using the term in a broad, general, all-embracing sense, is one of the greatest boons ever conferred upon mankind. We are in favor of weather. It has given us a communal interest, a topic for conversation upon which everyone has certain definite and fixed opinions, which he has no hesitancy in voicing.

Only a few of us look eye to eye upon such matters as art, literature and how to make strawberry shortcake, but when it comes to weather all mankind meets on common ground. Rich or poor, education, illiterate and intermediate, we all can appreciate weather. There's something about it, especially cold weather, that strikes all of us as you might say, in the same manner and judging from the postures assumed about the radiator by the incoming office force, in about the same spot. Of Chopin's spirituality as expressed in his prelude in A flat we know little and care less. Politics doesn't interest us. Neither does art. All we know is that it's cold enough to freeze the whiskers off a brass monkey and there is no street car in sight.

Can the Liberals Unite?
FORMATION of a liberal party is said to be the aim of Professor John Dewey, of Columbia University. The distinguished philosopher and many of his followers are not hopeful in regard to the progressiveness of either major party, and they plan on launching a movement comparable to that of British labor. For the time being, attention will be focused upon local contests in New York and other strategic points.

Desirable as this movement is, the fact remains that third-party programs have not been successful in the United States. Not even Theodore Roosevelt and Robert M. La Follette, truly national figures with immense popular support, were able to lay progressive foundations capable of withstanding the onslaughts of time.

"MAKE-BELIEVE" by FAITH BALDWIN
Copyright, 1930, by Faith Baldwin Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Travers Lorrimer, son of the wealthy Margaret Lorrimer, broods constantly for Delight Harford, whom he claims to have married in England during the war. No trace can be found of the girl, and when Travers mistakes Mary Lou Thurston, pretty young orphan, for Delight, Mrs. Lorrimer induces Mary Lou to play the part. Travers is told he must win "Delight" all over again. In the months that follow, Travers is more attracted to "Delight" than ever. Mary Lou loves Travers and feels she cannot keep up the masquerade. Just as the crisis is reached, Larry Mitchell, Mary Lou's newspaper reporter friend, locates the real Delight acting in a revue. Mary Lou is stunned by the news. Mrs. Lorrimer comforts Mary Lou and plans to investigate. She attends the revue while Jenny Wynne, Larry's fiancée, gives a party to keep Travers from getting suspicious.

CHAPTER XXXIX.
DRESSING for Jenny's party that evening, after the car had taken Margaret and Doctor Mathews in to town for their mysterious—Lorrimer—amusement, Mary Lou looked about her room and sighed deeply, wondering how long she would live in a home that everything had happened and anything might still happen.

She loved her room, it seemed especially hers. It had taken on much of her personality as a room; it had been the arena for many silent struggles and battles with herself, a place to which she came for sleep and dreams, in which the four walls mutedly reflected her love and amazement, her suffering and her faint, forgotten hopes; walls which knew something of the capacity of youth for error, for living in the present, for ignoring the future and banishing the past. Her room.

had been Jenny's Christmas present to her, and went out of the room. "If it weren't so idiotic," she thought to herself, "I'd say I felt like a ship, drifting, going on the rocks, sinking—well, I'll go down with colors flying!" thought Mary Lou. "Gosh!" exclaimed Lorrimer like a youngster, when he saw her. "Your public menace, Delight! I ought to look you up in a glass case where no one could see you but myself!" He laughed as he said it, but his eyes were serious, a little jealous, even.

Mary Lou laughed back. "I'd hate that," she told him. "No setting up exercises, no fresh air, no galloping over a good road and sailing over a fence. I'd dislike it very much, Lorry. I'd feel like a gold fish with all its proverbial privacy made immortal by Mr. Cobb."

Lorrimer looked very well himself, his broad shoulders held well back, his face, which had filled out these last months, eager, lighted with interest, the fine textured skin smooth and healthy with good color. His brown eyes smiled down silver shining, in close waves about her delicate face, her eyes bright with her secret anticipation. "Yes—and you're—wonderful tonight," he said quietly. "I'm a darned lucky fellow," he went on, "far beyond my merit. To have you—oh, I have you. From me yet a while—you can't escape me... I'll put up a fight if you try," he said, half laughing, half very grave. "Do you want to go?" he asked her suddenly.

Patiently Waiting
"Oh, please, Lorry—" "I've been pretty patient," he reminded her. "I know." She touched his sleeve. A fleeting touch and one that she couldn't help. She had to feel him near, just for a moment. "Oh, I must," she thought despondently. "If I couldn't before—how much more important it is now that I—"

She broke off in her thoughts. Drew away her hand. Sat back in her seat and closed her eyes. It was all so hard—too hard.

Once Larry, dancing with Mary Lou, whispered: "They got off all right?" "Yes. Dined in town. Took Rodgers and the big car." "Lorrimer didn't suspect anything," he pursued. "No." "I wonder," mused Larry, "what she'll do? Mrs. Lorrimer, I mean." "I don't know," said Mary Lou. Her feet were light on the polished floor, but her heart was lead in her breast. "You—game kid!" said Larry. Mary Lou was very popular that evening. There were dozens of more or less idle and eligible young men out from town only too anxious for an introduction, a dance. She forced herself out of her peace abstraction and gave them all her huge, friendly, generous, quick smile, set her teeth of moving in their arms, to the beauty's music, the talk of responding to admiring comments, serious discussion, witty witticisms. It was by far the longest evening she had ever spent. She had been playing a role for a long time, however, a role that had become part of her and all too real; she must, it seemed, play it a little longer.

Start Baby Right, Teach Him to Be Independent
For the Child to Learn, at an Early Age, to Do Things for Himself Will Train Him to Face Bravely the Future Problems of Life, Says Authority
By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.
NOTHING is more fascinating than to watch the growth and development of a baby. From birth onward it is an interesting study.
The first year presents many trials and tribulations. It is a most important time for during this period the baby grows rapidly. It undergoes the change from a helpless infant into a baby that laughs, plays, stands, tries to walk and talk.
In addition to growing, the child learns to eat and sleep at regular intervals. It learns how to hold up its head, to sit up, to stand and eventually to walk. Surrounding objects are of great interest to the youngster who is inquisitive and anxious to get hold of things.
At one year of age, the average baby weighs three times the weight at birth. This is approximately twenty-one pounds. Twenty-seven to twenty-eight inches is the measure in height.
At twelve months, baby's chubby face is replaced usually, by a lengthening of the body. Some children remain plump at this period while others grow tall, not gaining greatly in weight. It has been said that a baby who grows exactly alike at this age, the baby as a rule has been weaned. It has learned to take cow's milk and various solid foods. Now it should be able to hold a cup in the hands and be familiar with the uses of a spoon.
A great mistake most mothers make at this age is to continue treating the child as an infant. It is entering upon the period of early childhood and should not be treated as a baby.
Encourage the child to be independent. Of course, the child should be taught and helped. No better training can be encouraged than to have the child at an early age learn to do things on its own account.
Feeding and dressing alone, picking up toys and other objects from the floor, learning to pull off the stockings at bedtime and playing alone—all these and in the development of independence.
A child gifted with the virtue of independence will face the future with a calmness and courage which is a quality which will grow more valuable with the years.

Weds Secretary, 37
Lord Reading (above), once Ambassador to the United States, and later Viceroy to India, caused a sensation in British circles when he announced his marriage to Stella Charnaud, chief member of his secretarial staff since he returned to London. Lord Reading is 70, his bride 37. The late Lady Reading died last year.
Henry L. Doherty, of Cities Service fame, has purchased a newspaper to defend himself against his accusers. This kind of journalism has about petered out, however.
Rocking chairs are out of fashion. With no babies to howl for drinks at 3 a. m. people no longer needed anything, to crack their shins.
Director Guthery also states that, "The exhibit of feeder cattle to be shown at the 1931 Fair will excel previous shows both in quantity and quality." In 1930, 15 carloads were shown. The number of entries this year will reach 20 car lots. A total of $545 will be awarded in prizes.
"This exhibit is of particular interest to live-stock feeders because of the conditions that govern the contest. All cattle in the contest have been in the feeder lot of the exhibitor since April 1st and the entries are limited to residents of Ohio. Consequently the contest is strictly one of judgment and skill. First, good feeder cattle are required, then the quality and finish of the cattle depend upon the skill of the feeder. $300 additional prize money is offered for the best lot of 5 cattle raised and fed by the exhibitor. This is an inducement to the farmer to raise and feed his own cattle."
"A new classification this year has been prepared for single steers with prizes ranging from $5 to $25."
"In the fat lamb exhibit, only one entry is allowed in each class by an individual exhibitor. Five classes will be judged: native mutton fat lambs; Crossbred fat lambs; native mutton, feeder lambs; native fine-wool feeder lambs. The total amount of prizes offered is $375."
"All animals exhibited will be judged on Tuesday morning and sold at auction Wednesday, September 2."

Class Of 1921 Enjoys First Annual Reunion

The class of 1921 held its first reunion since graduation from Circleville high school, Saturday evening at the Boggs Hotel. The occasion was all that could be desired in so far as good times, renewal of old friendships and good fellowship is concerned.

Promptly at seven o'clock the members of the class and their guests of honor found their places at the flower laden and beautifully decorated table. Before being seated, the class, in reverence to the memory of those members deceased, stood in silence while M. A. Sensesbrenner read a portion of Thanatopsis. Mr. Eagleson then said the evening prayer after which Mrs. Boggs' able assistants served a delicious dinner. Those present donned paper hats and enjoyed every moment of the dinner hour. The meal was climaxed with an especially made brick of ice cream in the class colors blue and white with C. H. S. '21 in relief served to each present and generously furnished by H. E. Betz.

A short business meeting was then held presided over by M. A. Sensesbrenner, chairman, during which it was decided that the event should henceforth be a yearly occurrence, the reunion to be held the second Saturday of every August. It was decided to continue through this year with the same committee in charge: M. A. Sensesbrenner, chairman; J. R. Valentine, secretary-treasurer; and Frances Renick, Vera Leist, Elizabeth Deming, Emmitt Crist and Melvin Yates.

The meeting was turned over to Melvin Yates who acted as toastmaster and the following program was heard: "Oh, Yea?" by Prof. Eagleson; "Original Class Prophecy" by Elizabeth Deming; "Oh, Yea!" by Miss Cunningham; "Class of To-day," by Emmitt Crist; selection by Mildred Barthelmas accompanied by Hunter Chambers; "Our Future," by Frances Renick; song, "Red and Black" by the class.

After the program the class joined in a social hour with songs and words and stories from each one.

along the electrical line so to further increase his information he became associated with the Automobile Tool Co., at Richmond, Ind., where he remained until financial inducements prevailed on him and he successfully became connected with the Brown Lamp Co., of Columbus, the J. C. Herr Machinery Co., of Columbus, and the Mazier Cressman Cigar Co., where he was employed designing special automatic machinery.

Mr. Bartley was married to Miss Marthine Shanton, whose home was seven miles north of Chillicothe, in June, 1926.

READ ACCOUNT

Mr. Bartley saw the account in The Herald relating to the proposed moving of the Midwest Farm Equipment Co. of Battle Creek, Mich., to Circleville and realizing that, as Andrew Carnegie, is reported to have said, "The time to get into an organization is, when its future is before it, not behind it," he immediately came to Circleville, got in contact with the officials of the Midwest Farm Equipment Co. at the offices they have established here, and spent two weeks studying the possibilities of development of their organization.

After two weeks of study Mr. Bartley entered into a contract with the company where it is thought the experience he gained in his travels, which have carried him into territory as far west as Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska where he has had an opportunity to study agricultural conditions in connection with his other activities, will make him very valuable to the Midwest Farm Equipment Co., who, on account of the responsible position Mr. Bartley is to hold with them, have placed him on their board of directors.

We are always glad to chronicle the good things which happen to those who have been our home folks and we will be glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Bartley back to Circleville.

Experimental work shows that more than half of the returns secured by fertilizing wheat are from larger yields of clover and succeeding crops in the rotation.

SPEND and SAVE MONEY

Not so long ago a famous personage advised the American public "to spend." Another equally noted man retorted with the advice "save." Perhaps both were right, but the better policy would seem to be "spend wisely in order to save."

Spending wisely simply means to use your money for those things that you need, as the condition of your purse may warrant—and at the same time, to buy only those articles that have actually proved their quality and worth. By purchasing merchandise that gives the greatest value for the money, you secure the longest service and so save the price of a repurchase.

Thrift is a virtue, but so is wise investment. The advertising in this paper is a reliable guide as to where and when to get the utmost value for your money.

Advertising is a safe and trustworthy guide to sound investment. It has proved its reliability. You buy advertised wares every day—consciously or unconsciously. You buy by name, because you know that the advertised article has served you well in the past, and will continue to do so in the future.

Read the advertisements, that you may spend wisely — and save.

The pages of this newspaper carry the advertisements of reliable merchants and reliable manufacturers.
